to make life easier by taking Pearline to do your washing and cleaning. It does away with half the labor, and with all the dirt. It does away with the Rub, Rub, Rub. Nothing in the way of housework is too hard for it; nothing washable is too delicate. All things washable are safe with Pearline. It saves from wear.

and it keeps from harm. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you,
"this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends as imitation, be honest—send it back.

by the Sengte Committee.—Walting for a Beply from Lord Salisbury. for a Reply from Lord Salisbury.

Washington, March 9. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations o-day spent an hour in consideration of the Behring Sea arbitration treaty. While it was practically decided that the treaty should be reported to the Senate with the recommendation that it be approved, no formal action of that nature was taken, as the committee believed that the predent course would be to a wait the receipt from the Fresident of Lord Salisbury's rep y to his last proposition looking to a renewal of modus vivendi. It is learned that many Senators without regard to party lines have determined that some provision must be made for the renewal of modus vivendi as a condition precedent to the consummation of the treaty.

York Beach was the scene of a terrific buttle of the elements, last week, to judge by the links of things. For nearly two miles where the road runs along the beach, it scovered knee deep with snow. Irozen sea foum, gravel and loose and all mixed together in a kind of loose crust that was impossible to walk through or shovel away. In one place a log, sixteen feet long and a foot and a half through at the butt, probably a spile from Appledore or some other of the Isles of Shouls, was thrown up 56 feet, by netual measurement, from high water mark. A cottage that is ordinarily high and dry, although quite near the water, was invaded by the sea, which left a deposit of sand and gravel of the front steps by way of a visiting card. Old Orchard's sidewalks and lamp posts suffered severely from the remarkably high sea.
